

NATURE'S CLASSROOM INSTITUTE

Programming and Student Benefits

Who We Are

Nature's Classroom Institute is the "Nation's Premier Environmental Education Program". We offer a fully customized, highly engaging multi-day experience that has direct positive impacts on classroom community and academic performance.

Our Washington DC trip focuses on US history including the revolution, the civil war, civil rights movements and our countries impact on the world as a whole Our multi-disciplined. While maintaining a focus on history and politics the NCI values and philosophies shine through, giving the students opportunities to take responsibility, work as a team, make choices of their own and connect to the world around them in a very hands on way.

More Than Just Museum Tours

Educators at Nature's Classroom Institute put the students in the shoes of others to help gain perspective, asking thought provoking questions to encourage not just learning, but understanding. We do not just lead a group from exhibit to exhibit but connect the students to their history.

A Student's Choice

We involve students in the learning process and allow them to choose which areas in DC to explore, within the boundaries of your tailor made itinerary. By encouraging students to follow their interests we instill confidence, motivate them to seek out knowledge, and empower them to develop new areas of interest.

Student Benefits

NCI is a place where students begin to value their education. We broaden their perspectives to see that learning is not just textbooks and desks, but where they obtain the necessary skills for exciting opportunities.

More...

- An improved self-concept.
- A motivation to learn.
- An understanding of what education can offer.
- An ability to work with others for the positive benefit of all community members.
- Awareness of the environment and their role within it.
- An enhancement of the life skills to help them succeed, grow, and become the next generation's leaders.

Our Standards

A tried and true environmental education residential program with over 25 years experience.

Small Groups

We navigate different areas of DC in small groups, locations and topics slightly altering based on the students interests and choice. Our NCI group leader will be there to help the group connect to whatever they are looking at and encourage the students to take the lead, stepping in only to maintain focus and to ask those all important questions. The students will feel in control of their day.

Our Main Goal

Each day there will be a special focus, it could be the civil war, civil rights movements or the history of government. Here at NCI we strive to bring these topics alive through group learning and discussion.

Learning Through Experience Growing Through Expression.

Every moment is a learning moment at Nature's Classroom Institute. We motivate students in ways they don't even realize they are learning. Instead of just looking at monuments or exhibits our NCI connect the dots and bring these areas alive! Our mission is to incorporate the our surrounding, teaching and guiding using the world around us. Our activities are engaging through every step of the program and include the areas you would like the students to focus on.

Teachers can discover new ways to reach their students and elevate their social relationships. NCI enhances the classroom community, enthusiasm, and excitement for learning new and exciting things. Our veteran staff present and customize curriculum for each school giving you a tailor made trip. Thanks to pre-program guidance and planning students enjoy a unique educational experience that fits their needs and can be designed around the lead teachers chosen learning concepts. Students gain new independence and confidence to help them succeed, grow and become leaders.

Accommodations

At Nature's Classroom Institute we stay just outside of DC in the Blue Ridge Mountains, just a 45 minute drive away but distance enough to disconnect and unwind. The shared cabin environment promotes community and allows the students new opportunities for discussion and reflection. These beautiful settings provide an appealing break from the city and a home base for the students to rest, regroup and settle.

What Our Accommodations Include:

- Visiting schools will sleep in shared weatherized cabins that have AC and heating.
- All cabins include restroom and shower facilities.
- Meals are provided either on site or in the form of sack lunches.
- Nature trails and outdoor space is available for all to enjoy.

Onsite Activities

Every evening after dinner the students will participate in historical simulations, putting themselves in the shoes of others, they could be taking on the role of a towns person in Concord, forced to choose between loyalty to the King of England or help the local Minutemen. They could be a Native American walking the Trail of Tears or an Immigrant having just arrived on a boat from Europe.

You may also choose to spend more time onsite offering a break from the city. Choosing instead for the NCI staff to teach classes to further support learning, development and understanding.

Meals

When eating onsite, usually breakfast and dinner, the students will be offered even more choice. At NCI food is important and allowing the students to choose what they eat within the meal, portion sizes and quantities adds another layer of responsibility. We dine with the community in mind, eating together, discussing the day and playing games after the meal.

Pricing and Registration

How to Prepare For Your Trip

Nature's Classroom Institute offers each school a detailed presentation to make the preparation process for visiting teachers simple and organized. During this presentation the Education Director, will explain our program in full, what to expect on a day-to-day basis, the role of a visiting teacher, our registration process and answer any questions the school may have.

Nature's Classroom Institute is happy to arrange a separate presentation for parents and guardians displaying an overview of our program, this gives an understanding of what their child will be part of during their trip

Student Online Registration

Nature's Classroom Institute is paperless! Detailed instructions are provided to parents and guardians to easily and efficiently register their participating child on our safe and secure online portal. The portal is where Nature's Classroom Institute staff are alerted of any medication requirements, dietary restrictions and potential allergies. Teachers can login to ensure their students are registered and access their students medical and dietary requirements.

Availability and Booking

Availability is managed on a first come first served basis. Please check with the Outreach Director, Austin Wood, on current available dates. Nature's Classroom Institute is glad to liaise with each individual school to ensure all booking needs are met. This could include a modification in departure or arrival time or accommodation for special needs. Each school and its students are unique and your trip will reflect that.

Once your school finalizes a suitable, available date, a contract confirming all program logistics will be sent from our Executive Director, Geoffrey Bishop
